FIGHT SONG

MUSIC AND LYRICS BY JACK K. LEE

CHORUS:
Bear Down, Arizona!
Bear Down, Red and Blue!
Bear Down, Arizona!
Hit ‘em hard! Let ‘em know who’s who!
Bear Down, Arizona!
Bear Down, Red and Blue!
Go! Go! Wildcats go!
Arizona, Bear Down!

VERSE:
Arizona, Bear Down!
Let’s cheer for Arizona,
Let’s lift our voices high!
Let’s cheer for Arizona,
The Bear Down battle cry!
Let’s cheer our team to victory,
Let’s cheer our team to fame,
Let’s cheer for Arizona,
for spirit wins the game!
WELCOME TO THE UNIVERSITY OF ARIZONA

Thank you so much for choosing the University of Arizona to complete your undergraduate degree. As a transfer student, we know you are focused on your academic endeavors. College isn’t new to you: you understand independent work, relationships with faculty and their academic expectations. And while you may still be exploring what that perfect major looks like, you have a degree in your sights.

We’re here to help you with the in-depth information that you need, and this publication will get you started. It introduces you to key support areas such as the Think Tank, a tutoring and supplemental instruction service in three convenient campus locations.

Avail yourself to the Transfer Student Center on the Student Union Memorial Center’s fourth floor. Consider it your own private hangout with staff to answer your questions and help you transition on campus, as well as academic programming and resources to help you be a successful Wildcat. You’ll also have your very own Faculty Fellows who hold office hours there. You’ll meet students like you and even enjoy the occasional get-together complete with free food.

For the veterans among you, the Veterans Education and Transition Services (VETS) Center provides a thriving community of student veterans who have served our country and are continuing their education.

Your UA college experience will be about more than academics. Involvement in social and professional organizations and experiences such as internships and study abroad bring classroom instruction to life in what we call 100% Engagement. Think of it as getting “Real World Ready” for whatever follows your graduation, whether that takes the form of an internship, research, volunteer work or employment. Student Engagement & Career Development is your critical partner here, providing professional development every step of the way, including resume-building skills, interview workshops, on-campus jobs and career fairs.

We are so happy to have you on campus. Bear Down and have a great year!

Kasey Urquidez, Ed. D.
Vice President, Enrollment Management | Dean, Undergraduate Admissions

“We are so happy to have you on campus. Bear Down and have a great year!”

We know that you worked hard to get to this point. Your credits have transferred, you’ve completed your Transfer Student Orientation, and you’ve met with your advisor to create your schedule for your first semester at the University of Arizona. We want to help you maximize the time you have left before completing your degree, and your academic advisor is the expert on all things UA. Advisors can help you navigate the murky waters of policies, processes, strategic scheduling, changing or adding a major or minor and more. From your first semester to graduation, your advisor will be with you every step of the way.

STUDY SKILLS
Tests are a good way to measure your comprehension of subject matter, so it’s no wonder your professors will use them while you’re at the UA. You can ready yourself for those, no matter the format, outside the classroom.

• Think of questions you have, and read the text to answer them. This kind of interactive approach will make your reading more effective.

• Write it down. Taking notes while you read helps commit that information to your memory. It also helps you keep track of important dates, meetings and the like.

• Your syllabus is a handy tool that contains valuable information about your professors and courses, such as:
  - Your instructor’s name, contact info and office hours
  - Course objectives and learning outcomes
  - Grade and absence policies
  - Required exams and papers

• Go to office hours. Not only will you establish a relationship with your professor, but going can help clarify points of confusion in your subject matter.

Understanding your test formats and keeping track of time will help you put together a study plan for midterms and finals. Studying your most challenging subject first can help keep you focused and energized. If you need help planning your time, check out the library’s handy Assignment Scheduler.

>> library.arizona.edu/tutorials/scheduler

ASSIGNMENT SCHEDULER
The Assignment Scheduler tool on the UA Libraries website can help you get organized.

• Visit library.arizona.edu/tutorials/scheduler
• Fill out the date when you will begin working on your project
• Add the due date and the subject

The Assignment Scheduler does the rest. It builds a day-by-day task list to help you complete your projects on time.

>> library.arizona.edu/tutorials/scheduler

TIME MANAGEMENT
During your time at UA, you’ll have many obligations both on and off campus. We encourage you to find a balance between your studies, relationships, extracurricular activities and more. Plan your days, prioritize your tasks, reschedule if you need to and enjoy your relaxation time.

CAMPUS LIBRARY SERVICES
The UA has five libraries across the campus to support your academic success. Staff are on hand in person and by phone, text and email to provide you with the one-on-one help you need to get your work done. Use your CatCard to check out books, borrow equipment such as laptops, cameras, audio/visual equipment and more. Learn how to use technology like 3D printers, laser cutters and virtual reality to add something unique to your assignments and skillset. If you need a space to study, we have that, too.

PRE-HEALTH PROFESSIONAL ADVISING
You’ve chosen to prepare for a challenging, rewarding and exciting career in health care. This decision gives you access to the Pre-Health Professions Advising Center at the University of Arizona. For answers to questions about your interest in becoming a health care professional, the Pre-Health Professions Advising Center is your solution. Appointments with Pre-Health advisors focus on your health career as a complement to the information about your degree which your major advisor provides.

Suggested First-Semester Courses for Pre-Health Transfer Students:

The major you have chosen determines which courses you will need in your first semester. Very few health professional schools require calculus, although your chosen major may require it. You will need two semesters of college-level math for admission to most health professional programs.

If you have completed your introductory biology, general chemistry and/or physics courses, there may still be additional sciences required by your health professional program. Your pre-health advisors can help you plan your remaining prerequisite coursework.

What Else?
Preparing for a health profession includes seeking out experiences in clinical settings and possibly research as well. Leadership and community service are also recommended experiences. Start planning now to continue with these important preparations for your future career.

We have web-based resources available to you 24/7. While these may provide some of the answers you need, they don’t take the place of face-to-face meeting and individual planning.

ADVISORY RESOURCE CENTER (ARC)
The Advising Resource Center, or the ARC, is your one-stop shop for general advising information. Not sure who your advisor is or how and when to link up with them? Find contact information for all University of Arizona advisors in the “Find My Advisor” directory, where you can look up your advisor by major, minor or college.

Confused about what other academic support services exist on campus? A quick trip to the ARC website can get you going in the right direction. All students have at least one advisor for each major. Thinking of adding another major or minor or are thinking of changing your major? Consult the ARC, advisor directory and schedule an appointment with the advisor in the new major in which you are interested.

ACADEMIC ADVISING & SUPPORT
PRE-LAW ADVISING PREPARING FOR ADMISSION TO LAW SCHOOL

What you need to know about law school:

Law schools encourage students to study in any discipline. There is not one major that is considered to be better than another for law school. Law schools are more interested in how well you do regardless of your chosen major. You should focus on developing excellent writing, research and analytical skills. Follow your interests and strengths; do what you enjoy and you will do well. It is more important to do your best than to take a heavy course load. It is not beneficial to complete your degree a year or semester early just to impress law schools. Pre-Law Advising is an advising support program within the Colleges of Letters, Arts and Science. The goal is to offer you information and resources on the law school admission process.

What is the best pre-law major?

There is no major that is best for law school. The best preparation is a challenging and well-rounded undergraduate education. Law schools do not list specific courses as prerequisites for admission, but they do look for rigor in academics and proficiency in the use of the English language. Because the practice of law is so multifaceted, law schools welcome applications from students with diverse academic backgrounds.

Will poor grades affect my admission to law school?

Law schools look at transcripts from all undergraduate institutions to identify trends in students’ academic records. A few low grades in introductory courses taken during your freshman year offset by high grades in demanding advanced courses may stand you in good stead as a candidate. Law school admissions committees, however, will be concerned about a candidate who starts out strong and then continues on a downward trend for the remainder of their undergraduate education. One or two “W”s (withdrawals) may not be a cause for concern but a pattern of withdrawals usually will require an explanation.

>> prelaw.arizona.edu
You can measure your success at the University of Arizona in a number of ways: by getting as involved as you want with student clubs and organizations, or making friends and giving back to the community, among other things. When it comes to your grades, however, there are a distinct set of guidelines to assess your academic success.

GOOD STANDING

The UA considers a student to be in good academic standing if they maintain a GPA of 2.000 or above for all coursework taken. We commend students who push themselves academically and have designated a set of honors to bestow upon students who meet the following requirements:

DEAN’S LIST - AWARDED SEMESTERLY

- Dean’s List with Distinction: 15 Units, 4.000 GPA
- Dean’s List: 15 Units, 3.500–3.999 GPA
- Honorable Mention: 12 Units, 3.500+ GPA

ACADEMIC DISTINCTION - AWARDED ANNUALLY

- Highest Academic Distinction: 30 Units, 4.000 GPA
- Academic Distinction: 30 Units, 3.500–3.999 GPA

POOR STANDING

A student is considered to be in poor academic standing if their GPA drops below 2.000. There are consequences to being a student in poor standing, such as Academic Probation and Disqualification. That said, the UA is committed to your success and there are programs in place to help you achieve. Please contact the Office of Academic Success and Achievement to learn more. (See Academic Success and Achievement.)

The academic catalog contains important information about policies related to students in poor standing. It is very important to check in with your academic advisor on a routine basis, as they can help keep you informed of your academic progress.

GRADE REPLACEMENT OPPORTUNITIES

Grade Replacement Opportunities, or GROs, give students a chance to replace grades of C, D or E by repeating the course. GROs are centrally managed by the Office of the Registrar, so if you are interested in undertaking a grade replacement opportunity, please refer to the policies listed in the Academic Catalog for the most up-to-date information. You should also discuss your individual circumstances with your academic advisor before proceeding.

GRADUATION REQUIREMENTS

You’ve put in the effort; you’ve gotten the grades; now it’s time to celebrate! Commencement is May 10, 2019. In order to be eligible for graduation, you must maintain a 2.000+ GPA for all coursework you’ve taken at the UA. You also need to apply for degree candidacy through Graduation Services in the Office of the Registrar. Processes for this application differ by college, so you should check in with your academic advisor to make sure everything is in order before you can move your tassel.

REGISTRATION

Priority registration is coming up soon. You will have an opportunity to check your degree progress, as well as sign up for classes and modify your schedule. Try to meet with your advisor before priority registration begins and appointments fill up. They can help you pick classes that fulfill your educational requirements and keep you on track to graduate on time.

It’s important to take time to familiarize yourself with UAccess, our course registration system. You may encounter some administrative holds on your account when attempting to register. These holds can be, but are not limited to, financial, medical or probationary encumbrances.

Though probationary policies are the same university-wide, processes differ by college. Contact your dean’s office for more specific information.
The University of Arizona Bookstores

Now that you’ve got your classes scheduled for your first semester at the University of Arizona, you’ve got to get your textbooks and supplies! Getting your textbooks and other course materials at the UA BookStores can save you up to $200 through the BookStores’ textbook affordability initiatives. Options for saving money include the Inclusive Access program, used and rented textbook options, and a lowest price guarantee by price matching with Amazon and other retailers.

You can save more money when you purchase your technology devices and supplies through UA BookStores. UA BookStores is an authorized Apple Campus Store providing you with the latest technology at a discount. Use our Trade-In Trade-Up program to sell your older devices for an upgrade to a new one. To go with your hardware purchases, UA students are entitled to discounted software — you can get a copy of Microsoft Office and Adobe Creative Cloud for free! Be sure to stop by the Technology center at UA BookStores, SUMC location for more information and learn about our technology services in repairs, back-ups, and upgrades as well.

You may have noticed we’re big on showing our school spirit. If you need a t-shirt or a hat in a pinch, you know where to go! UA BookStores is a university-owned and operated store. That means all purchases made at any UA BookStores location support student scholarships, campus clubs, student government, athletics, alumni, and more. Follow @uabookstores on social media for sales, giveaways, and events so you don’t miss out on special deals.

UA BookStores is the definitive one-stop-shop for all of your academic needs. As a proud UA student, always remember to Buy UA, For UA.

LIVING RESOURCES
You’ll be spending a lot of time on campus. Luckily, there are many resources for getting you here, getting you around and getting you fueled up. Housing, dining and transportation are all important aspects of your campus experience.

HOUSING & RESIDENTIAL LIFE
Living on campus means you’ll be at the heart of student life. You’ll be closer to classes, advisors, campus clubs, friends and everything else. Arizona has 23 dorms of all different shapes, sizes and locations which are home to about 7,600 students. There are also theme communities where you can live with other like-minded students who share your goals and interests.

>> housing.arizona.edu
Living on campus in a dorm is a great way to stay connected and be a part of the student experience at Arizona. If you’re more interested in living off-campus, the Off-Campus Housing office can help you find a nearby apartment or rental that meets your needs.

>> offcampus.arizona.edu

CAMPUS DINING
You can’t study your hardest if your body isn’t fueled up for the task. The UA boasts more than 35 restaurants, 3 convenience stores and 350 vending machines to meet your dining needs.

>> union.arizona.edu/dining
Wildcat Meal Plans are highly recommended for students who live on-campus, and using your meal plan will exempt you from paying state sales tax on any food or beverage items purchased on campus. You can choose from three tiers of Wildcat Meal Plans for the academic year, or you can choose the Commuter Plan. Any funds remaining on your Meal Plan at the end of the year will roll over for you to use the following year.

>> union.arizona.edu/mealplans
You can also use CatCa$h to purchase food and drinks on campus.

PARKING & TRANSPORTATION SERVICES
Even though campus is less than a square mile, it can seem pretty big — especially when you have to get from one end to the other in 10 minutes for your next class! The good news is there are a lot of great options for getting both to campus and around campus, which is where Parking and Transportation Services comes in.

From two wheels to four wheels, Parking and Transportation Services has you covered. Log into your Parking Account Portal to request a parking permit for campus or our commuter lots. Reduce your parking costs with a $100 Park and Ride permit. Park off-campus and ride in on our Cat Tran shuttle. Don’t want to drive to class every day? Parking and Transportation Services can help you find a carpool to join with our RideAmigos trip planner service.

Let Sun Link and Sun Tran take you to class! Several bus routes run every 15 minutes to and from the University of Arizona. Students are eligible for a 50% subsidy on semester and annual U-Passes. U-Passes can be used on both SunTran buses and SunLink streetcars.

Biking is our most popular way to get to campus. There are a number of bike-friendly lanes around the UA, and you’ll find plenty of bike parking on campus. We even offer free bike rentals, assistance with minor repairs. Our Bike Valet service is here so you don’t have to worry about finding a spot to park your bike.

Cat Tran is a free campus shuttle service that goes through the heart of Wildcat Country. There seven different routes that will take you all over campus, the rec center, and even to nearby grocery stores. Shuttles run from 6:30 AM to 7:30 PM and live tracking is available on TransLoc and UA Mobile App. Boarding passes are available for students living off-campus near shuttle routes. Visit cattran.arizona.edu for routes and shuttle times.

CAMPUS RESOURCES & SUPPORT SERVICES

The University of Arizona offers opportunities for students to focus on their entire well-being, both mind and body. From our state-of-the-art Campus Recreation Center to health care services provided by our nationally certified Campus Health Center, UA will help to keep you in balance while you focus on your studies.

CAMPUS HEALTH
Campus Health is committed to your health and wellness by offering a variety of services and outreach programs, such as general medicine, a walk-in clinic, women’s health, mental health services, a travel and immunization clinic and an on-site pharmacy. Registered students do not need health insurance to use Campus Health, but they do accept insurance from most providers, as well as offering their own. You can also pay per service for visits that may require additional fees, such as lab tests or x-rays. Best of all, all charges can be conveniently billed to your Bursar’s account.

>> health.arizona.edu

COUNSELING & PSYCH SERVICES (CAPS)
Our trained and licensed counselors are available to help you cope with and move past issues so that you can successfully achieve your educational goals.

>> health.arizona.edu/counseling-psych-services

CAMPUS RECREATION
Student fees built into your tuition give you access to Campus Recreation facilities, where you can work out in the fitness center, swim in the pool, play on the sport courts, run on the indoor track or simply lounge with friends. Relax with a massage at the RecSPA (which you can charge to your Bursar’s account)! You can also register for fitness or activity classes, join a sports program, rent equipment for outdoor activities, or sign up for an excursion trip. Tutoring services, a computer lab, restaurant and UA retail store can be found at the Student Recreation Center. Coming Fall 2019, a second Wellness & Rec Center opens at North District. Get Active, Live Healthy, Be Well, Campus Recreation.

GENERAL SAFETY TIPS

- Don’t be an easy target for theft. Never leave your valuables unattended in a public space.
- Don’t walk alone at night, if you have to walk around on campus at night, go with a friend or call SafeRide.
- Never share your Social Security number, ATM PIN or other important passwords with anyone.
- Before leaving home, always make sure your windows and doors are locked.
- Make sure all of your social media pages are secure and private.
- You know when words cross the line. Do not participate, and report any harassment, gossip or abuse to the proper channels.
- Think ahead! Park in a well-lit area if you plan on coming back after dark.

STUDENT ENGAGEMENT AND CAREER DEVELOPMENT
Student Engagement and Career Development (SECD) can connect you with exciting career development opportunities, no matter where you are in your career-planning journey.

We can help you connect what you’re good at with your purpose and passion. But we can also help you develop and tailor your resume and cover letter to maximize your chances in the internship or job search.

There’s a lot in between, of course! But no matter where you are in your journey — getting ready to launch or orbiting your opportunities, we’ll be here to greet the details, introduce you to employers interested in your skills and experiences (hint: they love UA Wildcats) or draw out the map of your great career plan while you lead the way. Here’s how we can help.

LifeLab. If you looking for more personalized help with your resume and cover letter, you should drop into LifeLab to meet with a peer educator. They’ll review and help you tailor your materials for the job or internship you’re applying to. If you’re still exploring, they can also lead you through several exercises to help you pin-point an academic path that could lead you to a great career path. They have drop-in hours every day.

VETS CENTER
At the University of Arizona, the core of our engagement with student veterans occurs through our two Veterans Education and Transition Services Centers, or VETS Centers. There are two convenient locations: one at the heart of main campus in the USS Arizona Student Union Memorial Center and the other in the Arizona Health Sciences Center. Serving both VETS Centers is the Assistant Dean of Students for Military and Veterans Engagement and a staff of trained student veterans that have transitioned, are knowledgeable about the UA and are utilizing VA educational benefits.

The VETS Centers offer individualized service to improve the experience of all veterans attending the UA. They provide a step-by-step in-processing or onboarding guidance for student veterans who are applying or have been recently admitted to the institution. The VETS Centers foster a USO atmosphere allowing veterans to study, relax and engage with other student veterans who have walked in their same boots.

UA’S ALMA MATER

LYRICS BY E.C. “TED” MONRO
MUSIC BY DOROTHY H. MONRO

All Hail Arizona! Thy colors red and blue,
Stand as a symbol of our love for you.

All Hail Arizona! To Thee we’ll e’er be true,
We’ll watch o’er and keep you, All Hail, All Hail!

All Hail Arizona! Thy rugged peaks aglow,
Here on the desert strength and peace bestow.

All Hail Arizona! We sing our praise to Thee,
In trial and in victory. All Hail! All Hail!

All Hail Arizona! Thy sons and daughters true,
Stand now as ever to fight and die for you.

All Hail Arizona! We pledge our faith anew.
To guard and protect you. All Hail! All Hail!
